Special to the Indianapolis Journal. HARTFORD CITY, Ind., Nov. 25 .- Guy Merritt, of this city, who has just returned from the California oil field, makes an interesting comparison between the extreme Western field and the Indiana and Ohio field. The crude product of the Golden Gate State is worth 15 cents a barrel, while oil-bearing land sells from $4,000 to $5,000 an acre. In this State at the present time oil is worth 98 cents a barrel and oil and oil land is selling every day for $100 an acre. Merritt says California oil has an asphaltum base and is as thick as sorghum. The Standard Oil Company is building a pipe line to the seacoast from Bakersfield, which it is necessary to cover with asbestos, and, in addition, the oil has to be

Judge Paulus Rules on the Police Board Law at Marion.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MARION, Ind., Nov. 25 .- Judge Paulus, of the Grant Circuit Court, to-day rendered his decision in the case of the State ex rel. Patrick Antrim and John L. Stellar vs. Robert C. Houston, William W. Mc-Cleery and Daniel C. Reardon, composing the Police Board of Marion. The action was instituted by Antrim and Stellar to test the constitutionality of the law creating metropolitan police boards and questioning the power of such a board to legally operate in this city. The Police Board filed demurrers to the information, and Judge Paulus, in making his ruling to-day, sustained the demurrers in each case. In making his ruling Judge Paulus did not pass on the constitutionality of the law creating such boards, and did not pass on the right of such boards to control the police powers of Marion, but he ruled that Antrim and Stellar are not the proper persons to bring such proceedings and that test cases could not be made by persons in their positions.

Antrim and Stellar were conducting an alleged gambling room, which was broken into by the police. They claimed that the police had no authority to enter licensed places of business and control or suppress the same, or invade the privacy of their clubrooms, where their guests and patrons were congregated.

Hart and Levy, constituting the state finance committee, had come to Lafayette to examine into the proposed improvement of State street, West Lafayette, adjoining the university grounds, it being necessary for them to approve the plan before the Legislature can make an appropriation for the purpose. Governor Durbin said that the improvement would be ratified by the finance committee. The executive said he was much surprised at the great growth evident at Purdue, and that he would never forget the honor the students had paid him. As to the probability of a special appropriation for Purdue's needs, he said that this subject was one for the committee to discuss. The members of the latter, when questioned, said that the matter would not be made public until the Legislature convened. There is reason to believe that Purdue's portion of the state tax will be raised from 1-20 to 1-15 of a mill, the same as I. U. now receives. This will make a difference of

After the celebration the visiting legislators and executive conferred with President Stone in his office and discussed the university's needs.

Carnegie Institution Trustees Meet. WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 .- The board of trustees of the Carnegie institution held a meeting here to-day and authorized the executive committee to appropriate $200,000 of the income to the purposes recommended by the advisory committee in various branches of science. The board also voted to set aside $100,000 as a reserve fund, to allow $50,000, or so much as may be needed, for other expenses, including salaries, rental, etc., and to devote $40,000 to the publication of scientific memoirs and papers. The further details of the appropriation were referred to the executive committee to be determined in accordance with general principles approved by the board. The by-laws were amended so that the annual meeting hereafter would be held on the second Tuesday of December, beginning 1903. The death of Hon. Henry Hitchcock, of Missouri, was announced and his brother, Secretary E. A. Hitchcock, of the Interior Department, was elected to the vacancy. The question of a site for the Carnegie institution was discussed at length, but was postponed until the next annual meeting of the board.

Reliable details regarding the fighting are not obtainable The correspondent of the London Standard at Johannesburg telegraphs particulars of a scheme of land settlement which Lord has successfully started for the benefit of the boycotted native scouts and for indigent Boers who are known as "Byoners. The project consists of government aided syndicates of Boer land owners who, in return for government loans, accept these needy burghers as tenants, providing them with farming requisites, educating their children, and receiving in return half the produce of the settlers' lands. Colonial Secretary Chamberlain and Mrs. Chamberlain started from London for South Africa yesterday amid cordial farewells from a large circle of friends. The police cordoned the railroad stations and permitted only ticket holders to enter the building. The couple traveled in the royal train to Portsmouth, where they boarded the armored cruiser Good Hope, and enterprior to sailing. The storeroom of the warship has been well equipped and a French chef has been shipped. Many live sheep and chickens are carried on board the Good Hope and the special delicacies intended for the Chamberlains' table are alone valued at $2,500. The two storerooms contained 300 cases of wine. As a climax to the widespread agitation caused by the sensational address made by the dean of Ripon, the Rev. W. H. Boyd Carpenter, has written a letter imploring the dean "on behalf of many devout and simple-hearted Christians" to reiterate his belief in the creed of the church. The dean of Ripon, in replying to the bishop's appeal, ignores the controversial points, but emphasizes his belief in the absolute delty of Christ and his sincerity in reciting the creed.

New Municipal Code Upheld.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 25.-The first attack on the constitutionality of the recently enacted municipal code bill for Ohio met with defeat in the Court of Common Pleas today. The case was brought at the request of a taxpayer to test the law. Judge Murphy overruled the plaintiff's demurrer to the answer, thus sustaining the constitutionality of the law on all the points The Czar's sister, Grand Duchess Xenia, raised. Among these was that the law was not uniform in its operation and that the case will be appealed at once to the Circuit Court and then be taken to the Supreme Court as soon as possible to settle the point of constitutionality finally.
